CHOWANOKA

1951 PUBLICATION of CHOWAN COLLEGE

FOR E W O R D

The 1951 Chowanoka is presented as a memory book of days spent down Pine Drive—of work and accomplishments, of friendships and happy moments. Through the years may it be a reminder of your experiences at Chowan.

DEDICATION

AUSTIN FREEMAN STAPLES

War is a time when surfaces are scratched deeply; polishes, dulled; veneers, removed, leaving only the true product. So it is with people. To withstand the impending tides of danger, we look for those who remain always steadfast and dependable. Here at Chowan we have found such a person. His quiet strength and artful humor have been a refuge to us in the confusion and restlessness of the times. Because he symbolizes by his way of life these fundamental qualities, we, the Staff, dedicate this edition of the Chowanoka to Mr. Austin Staples who has really proved to be the student's friend.

ALMA

On the plains of Carolina
 Neath her skies so blue
 Stands our noble Alma Mater,
 Glorious to view.
 With her classic walls and columns
 Looks she proudly down,
 Reared against the arch of heaven
 With the stars for crown.

MATER

By Meherrin's rippling waters
Where the sunbeams play,
We, her loyal sons and daughters
Pledge our love for aye.
Praise to her! God grant His blessing
May He give rich store.
Chowan, we will ever cherish
Love her ever more.

Homecoming . . . "The 'chine" . . . The acrobat . . . The bumblebee nest . . .
 Time out for a coke . . . In the lane, the snow is glistening . . . The campus belles . . . Loafers . . . Lovers . . . One big snow . . . You name it . . .
 Sunshine serenaders . . . Bedtime, children . . . Baby Ray.

THE COLLEGE

Its History and Traditions

OFFICIALLY October 11, 1848 is adhered to as Founder's Day for Chowan College, for it was on that day that the Baptists of the Chowan Association began the operation of the school, known then as Chowan Collegiate Institute. The Institute replaced the Banks School which began operation in 1882 and which in turn supplanted the Hertford Academy that was opened in 1794, and received its charter from the state. Thus, the Founder's Day of Chowan is in reality 1794, marking the college as one of the oldest institutions in the nation.

The first commencement was held on the present site in 1851. The campus then as now consists of 50 acres and has on it at present thirteen buildings, centering around the four-story, majestic columned, colonial structure erected in 1857. Other buildings are the East building, erected 1906; the Science building, remodeled 1874; Hope Cottage, 1878; Stone Cottage, 1913; Scarborough House, 1924; Auditorium, 1923; Faith Cottage, sometime between 1897-1907; four cottages, 1950; president's home, 1950. All of the old buildings experienced a complete remodeling from 1948-1950.

In 1852 the name Chowan Collegiate Baptist Institute was given to the school for girls only, but that year it was made co-educational; and until 1937 it was a senior college, but it was changed that year to a junior college.

Chowan is old in tradition. Since 1880, the bell with its "bell tower" has been an integral part of life. If it could talk as well as ring, it might peal forth the legend of the Brown Lady who haunts the campus on Halloween night; the story of the young confederate officer hidden in the watch tower and of the young ladies spreading their hoop skirts on the steps to prevent the Yankees from finding the hidden confederate; the story of the rumored insurrection, a phase of the Nat Turner rebellion, the shooting and burial of one of the rebellionists on the campus while the girls were gathered in one room for prayer; of all-day steamboat rides and picnics on the Meherrin River; of all-day commencements, with visitors arriving by boat and being guests of the Spencer House or the Boyette Hotel; of its famous presidents and educators as William Hooper, Archibald McDowell; of its first famous literary society organized in 1875; of the entrance, graduation, and return of its illustrious alumni; of its famous "Crow's Nest" for seniors only; and of all the numerous heartaches and joys that have been poured forth among its shaded walks and drives.

Chowan now is 103 years old, proud of its traditions, not content only to look back, but eager to look forward too.

Slide, brother, slide!

BASEBALL SNAPSHOTS

"I'd hate to think we can't play ball."

Now look purty . . . Block that guy! . . . That's the way to go . . . Put it here, baby . . . We thought they were all dead! . . . Our opponents, (ugh) . . . Watch that tackle . . . And they're off! . . . Keep digging, Buddy . . . The artist poses . . . Good single . . . The modern Adonis . . . Tell 'em Daddy . . . Up from the grave they arose.

Take your time, Cedric . . . Suspense . . . And up they go . . . He flies through the air . . . The season's over, boys . . . That's the way to go . . . Coach Molly . . . Refer to picture No. 3 . . . Watch the birdy . . . Who's shooting? . . . Hooker Boy . . . What's wrong, buck?

DORMITORY LIFE

"I hate to sweep" . . . Having a hard time . . . Whe-e-e . . . Who do you think you're fooling? . . . Mice in the food again . . . Duh-h . . . Come in, the show's just beginning . . . A prize picture, she isn't saying a word . . . It's not that bad, is it? . . . Stand in for Jane Russell . . . You don't say! . . . "Make me look pretty, Eva Maude."
